

THE MESSENGERS OF GOD

Everything that happens in this world is because of the Messengers of God. When man forgets the divine teachings, then God sends another Messenger to help him remember. And even if a person does not know about a Messenger of God when He first comes, still the warmth of God's love touches his heart and helps him to lead a better life, to design marvellous buildings, to write beautiful music, or to paint lovely pictures.

A new civilisation begins.

Just before a new Messenger of God comes, the world seems a very dark place indeed. People fight and are unhappy and nothing seems to work properly. Everyone is searching for something new. Even the old religions do not seem to help any more. It is then time for another Messenger of God. Bahá'u'lláh said that this is what happened in the past and this is what will happen in the future.

"God hath sent down His Messengers to succeed to Moses and Jesus, and will continue to do so 'till the end that hath no end."
